GOES TO A JURY.

Young Man Convicted of Using Complimentary Street Car Tickets Upon a warrant charging him with having stolen forty-five complimentary tickets from the Virginia Passenger and Power Company, Lon Schwartzman, a young man, was convicted by Justice Crutchfield yesterday morning and ordered confined in the city juli for thirty fays. An appeal was promptly taken by Attorney Roscoe Nelson, attorney for Schwartzman. He furnished bond for his appearance before the Hustings Court at the next term.

The case lasted for more than an hour in Politee Court. Schwartzman used a complimentary street car pass book that was given him. It was testified that he told one conductor that he was riding on free tickets and that a mistake had been made when he was issued a book containing red tickets instead of one with hiue tickets.

Attorney Nelson argued that if a book of complimentary tickets was issued to one person and the tickets were used by another person, the conditions on the cover said that the fickets became void and could be taken up by the conductor.
He concended that there was no criminality in the transaction and that his client was not guilty of pott larceny.

Commonwealth's attorney Richardson said that while the book might not be of any value to any person other than the one to whom it was issued, still if the party in whose possession it was found was using it for fraudulent purposes, the crime was there.

MANY OUTINGS.

Union Station Took Large Number to Beach Park.

The excursion and picnic of the Union

The excursion and picnic of the Union Station Methodist Sunday school to Beach. Park vesterday consisted of 751 persons and requiring 14 coaches. The party spent a pleasant day at the park, returning last night. To-day the Southern Railway will take down to Beach Park the Sunday school of the Third Christian Church, requiring six or eight coaches.

This afternoon at 6:22 the employes of the department store of Miller and Rhoads will have their annual excursion to Beach Park. The usual 5:30 train will be held until 6:30 for the accommodation of this party.

The St. Andrew's Sunday school excursion and picnic was had at Buckroe Beach yesterday, quite a large party going down from this city to spend the day at the popular Chesapeake Bay resort.

To-day the great annual excursion of the Man Street Sintion Railway Young Men's Christian Association will be operated from this city to Buckroe Beach, and will include one of the largest partes of the season. It is probable that more than 2,000 people will go down with the party, there being about 300 members of the associations. These, with their families and friends and those to whom tickets have been sold, will make a great party. Prizes have been offered to those selling most tickets.

STATE GROWING RICHER

County Treasurers Report Great Increase in Taxable Values.

Increase in Taxable Values.

Treasurer C. T. Smith, of Caroline county; Treasurer P. H. Sweet, of New Kent; Assessor of Realty G. D. Sweet, of New Kent; Assessor of Realty G. D. Taylor, of Chesterfield county, and Judge J. Thompson Brown, of Nelson, were among the callers at the offices of the Auditor of Public Accounts and Treasurer yesterday. Assessor Sweet reported that the new assessment of realty in New Kent showed an increase in taxable values of 385,000. Assessor Taylor, of Chesterfield, reported an increase of more than $50,000. Those figures indicate an increase in taxable values in the one hundred counties of the State of about eight pullion dollars, if this average is maintained. New Kent is not a large county and Chesterfield only of medium size and population, and there is every reason to anticipate that the average will exceed $2,000. This estimate does not include the cities, where the ingrease of taxable values will greatly exceed that in the counties. It is easy to see that the total will show an increase probably of twelve millions in the entire State. This means, of course, a large increase in revenue to the State, and greater resources for the improvement of the sducational system and the roads of the State.

Prosecution Rested Case Yesterday and Defense Introduced Witnesses.

CHARACTER OF DEFENDANT

Standing in Community Was of the Best-Shocked at Actions of Fields.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23.—The resecution to-Gay rested its case in the risi of Andrew A. Lipscomb, indicted on the tharge of embezzling $15,000 of the funds of the Washington Endowmnt Ben-eficial Association, for which he was coreceiver with Thomas M. Fields. To Boyd Taylor, teller of the Washington Loan and Trust Company, the first wit-ness called by the government to-day, testified that he had cashed many checks for Fields and that several times Lips comb had been presen when the mone vas paid. On cross-examination, he coulwas paid. On cross-examination, he could not say that Lipscomb received any of the money from the cished checks. Philip Walker, a Washington attorney, proved to be an immaterial witness for the prosecution, and at this point the State rested.

The Defense.

The Defense.

In opening for the defense, Attorney Moore moved that there be stricken from the records the testimony relative to bribery of the witness Earnest; also that part of Saunder's testimony relating to Lipscomb's indebtedness to Miss Henry, and that part of Roames's testimony dealing with the Holmead note. The motion was overruled, the court saying there was a question to be submitted in the prayers. Mr. Moore read to the jury the letter sent by Fields to Lipscomb, in which Fields confessed the embezgiement and said Lipscomb was not to blame. Mr. Moore next read to the jury the statement made to United States District Attorney Beach by Lipscomb, on the 11th of June, 1904, in which Thomas M. Fields was indicted.

R. Ross Perry said he had known Mr. Lipscomb for a number of years, and that his character was of the best; his honesty had never been questioned.
Prank Hume spoke in high terms of Mr. Lipscomb, saying he had known him for Lipscomb, saying he had known him for Lipscomb, saying he had known him for many years, and that his reputation for honesty and integrity was unassailable. District Commissioner West said he had known Mr. Lipscomb for about fifteen years, and had never heard anything affecting his character.

A large number of other character witnesses gave testimony of a like import.

Lipscomb Shocked.

Lipscomb Shocked.

George C. Molgs, a member of the bar, testified that he was present on the morning when Lipscomb received the letter from Fields, in which Fields confessed the embezzlement. He said Lipscomb was terribly shocked over the contents of the Fields letter. United States District Attorney Beach was ruther pointed in his cross-examination, and confused the wilness to some extent. The last witness examined was R. Walters, a bookkeeper of the Second Mattonal Bank. His testimony was to the effect that Lipscomb kept an active personal account at the bank and also accounts as attorney, counts as attorney.

Plans for Effective Preparation and Maintenance of Fleet for War.

IMPORTANT CHANGES MADE

Wearing of Swords Aboard Ship on Ordinary Occasions Has Been Abolished.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 28.-Important changes which have been made in the naval regulations by the Bureau of Navi dent and Secretary of the Navy, were nade public at the Navy Department to-day. In the revised regulations the general good of the navy is given a prominent place by the incorporation in the first chapter of a paragraph giving he composition of the board and a secto have a membership or seven, as at present, with the admiral of the navy at present, with the admiral of the navy at its head.

The dulies of the board, as given, are to devise measures and plans for the ef-fective preparation and maintenance of the fleet for war; to advise the Secretary. the fleet for war; to advise the Secretary of the Navy as to its disposition and distribution, and of the reinforcements of ships, officers and men of the navy and marine corps; to prepare and submit to the Secretary plans of campaign, including co-operation with the army, and the employment of all elements of naval defense, such plans to be constantly revised in accordance with latest information received. It is to consider the number and types of ships proper to constitute the types of ships proper to constitute the fleet, the number of officers and men required to man them, and to advise the Secretary as to estimates therefor, to be submitted to Congress. Swords Abolished.

Swords Abolished.

The wearing of swords aboard ship on ordinary, occasions has been practically abolished by the new wording of the regulations respecting their use, a woven service revolver belt and revolver taking the place of the sword. It is explained by the department that a sword is an unhandy weapon under modern conditions on board ship or in boats, and that it serves no useful purpose on occasions other than those of ceremony. The sword will be worn, however, at ceremonles and at infantry and artillery drills on shore. The regulations governing visitors going aboard vessels under, construction have been revised, go as to give such permission only to those known to the senior naval officer present as American citizens of good standing and repute. Visitors representing foreign governments or known to be other than American citizens, it is provided, shall not be permitted to go aboard suich vessels except by permission of the Navy Department, and then shall be accompanied by a naval officer on duty at the navy yard or works where the vessel is building.

The ships to whigh captains may be ordered in command are limited to battleships and armored cruisers, while commanders have had, their duties afloat extended to the dommand of protected cruisers of the first rate, and leutenants are made eligible for the command of destroyers or topedo flotilas.

Apprehension Was So Tense That Liquidation Was Easily Absorbed.

(By Associated Press.)

NE WPORK, June 28.—The local cotton market was excited to-day and prices ad vanced approximately fifty points in the various options to January. This was equivalent to an advance of $2.50 a bale over last night's closing quotations and followed an advance of thirty points in yesterday's session and a previous advance in the last two or three weeks of spot dealers and exporters appear to have sold too heavily ahead in contracting for delivery to spinners and were compelled to buy during to-day's excited rise on reports of bad crop conditions.

There was heavy relizing by the old bull interests, but the market was so big and broad and apprehension over the new crop situation was so tonse that this liquidation was readily absorbed, and prices castly sustained most of the exceptionally heavy advance, with the July option selling up to about 2.50 with August and September going to 3.50, October to 3.55, December to 9.75 and March deliveries practically reaching the ten conts basis. Sales were estimated at 750,000 bules.
